LISTENING AND READING TEST

Measures beginner to advanced proficiency level of English listening and reading skills needed in the workplace.

Why use the TOEIC Listening and Reading test?

The TOEIC Listening and Reading test enables organizations to assess English-language communication skills that are used in the workplace, from telephone conversations and meetings, to information analysis and correspondence.

Scores with Meaning

A rigorous scoring process ensures that the TOEIC Listening and Reading test delivers accurate and reliable results. The test is based on up-to-date, real-world workplace scenarios. This comprehensive approach provides meaningful feedback on a test taker's ability to perform a range of tasks, including understanding explanations and instructions and connecting information in different real-world texts.

The reported scores provide reliable and consistent data to:

- ✓ Inform decision-making when pre-selecting and selecting candidates.
- ✓ Position students and learners to form level groups.
- ✓ Measure the progress of students and learners.
- ✓ Validate the level of English required to obtain a diploma or certification.

Test Format and Content

The TOEIC Listening and Reading test is designed to assess a test taker's ability to understand explanations and instructions, follow public talks and announcements, understand workplace conversations and connect information in different real-world texts. The test consists of two separate sections, one for listening and one for reading. Test questions are based on up-to-date, real-world workplace scenarios.

 The TOEIC Listening and Reading test is available in 2-hour and 1-hour (Multistage Adaptive) versions. For more information, please get in touch with your ETS Global sales representative
